New Trash Collection Services

As we know, the City of Boston has hired Capital Waste Services to perform trash pickups throughout the city for the next five years. We invite your feedback as to the new hour and as to the level of service by writing to us at info@bhcvic.org. We will forward your comments to the City.

BHCA Joint Committees

The BHCA participates in several joint committees that serve the neighborhood.

Beacon Hill Nonprofit Neighbors

Under the auspices of the BHCA, the Beacon Hill Nonprofit Neighbors has been meeting regularly since November 2003. The BHCA formed the group in order to explore the common interests and unique situations of nonprofits on Beacon Hill. Representatives from more than 20 organizations participate in the group. They share knowledge and experience, and collaborate on activities to benefit their members and the community. Meetings are held annually if possible, and attendees discuss the challenges they face and share ideas on how to resolve those challenges.

The Nonprofit Neighbors annually participate in the BHCA Fall HillFest, this year on September 22, to educate the public about the mission of their institutions and increase participation by Beacon Hill residents in their programs. They are encouraged to distribute informational materials, sponsor activities for children and adults, and offer walking and museum tours.

BHAC approves application to change Starbucks signage

By Dan Murphy

The Beacon Hill Architectural Commission unanimously approved an application to replace the blade and storefront signage at Starbucks' 123 Pinckney St. location to reflect the company's trademark white-and-green colors with minor provisos during its July 18 public hearing at City Hall.

The commission also unanimously approved an application to remove the grates from six second-story windows at 81 Beacon St. with the stipulations that the rear elevation be restored to its original appearance, and that it be painted to match the existing color.

In addition, the commission unanimously approved an application to install a gas shutoff valve adjacent to the courtyard area at 107 Chestnut St. with minor provisos.

Meanwhile, the commission voted to deny without prejudice an application to enlarge an existing window to provide access to the rear deck at 103 Pinckney St. on the grounds that its regulations prohibit making windows bigger on historic facades.

Tom Brady-inspired fitness facility to open in Back Bay

By Lauren Bennett

A new place to work out is coming to the Back Bay, replacing the closed Boston Sports Club. The TB12 Sports Therapy Center, created by New England Patriots Quarterback Tom Brady, will have a soft opening at 699 Boylston St. in mid-August, John Burns, CEO of TB12, told the Beacon Hill Times.

The new Boston facility, which also has a location in Foxborough, will be the flagship location, Burns said. "Tom wanted to give back to the city and fans that have supported him through his career, so it was a natural choice to have the flagship open in Boston," he said. The facility will be seeking locations in New York, Miami,

OVERUSE OF ANTIBIOTICS THREATENS ALL OF US

The discovery and widespread use of antibiotics in the middle of the last century ranks as one of the greatest achievements of modern science.

Until the 20th century, infections that we now consider straightforward to treat – such as pneumonia and diarrhea – that are caused by bacteria, were the number one cause of human death in the developed world.

However, during World War II, the widespread use of penicillin is credited not only with saving the lives of thousands of American soldiers, but also with paving the way for the development of many other forms of antibiotics that we take for granted today for the treatment of everything from ear infections in our children to more serious bacterial infections in those with compromised immune systems.

However, as with everything else in life, too much of a good thing can lead to bad consequences. Antibiotics not only are prescribed for illnesses for which they are often not needed in humans, but are in widespread use in the production of livestock. More than half of the antibiotics produced in the United States are used for agricultural purposes. If you are a consumer of beef, pork, chicken, farm-raised fish, and dairy products -- which is to say, just about all of us -- then you have been ingesting antibiotics with every meal you have eaten for decades.

The result of this mass use of antibiotics has resulted in the evolution of antibiotic-resistant germs. Recent news articles have highlighted the inability of even the top-rated hospitals throughout the world to fight these super-bugs. Individuals who go into the hospital for routine procedures now are subject to contracting a super-bug that modern science is powerless to fight.

Epidemiologists tell us that the greatest health threat world-wide is a super-bug that is resistant to all of the antibiotic weapons currently existing in our treatment arsenal and that the only way to prevent such an occurrence is to stop the overuse of antibiotics.

However, with the drug and agriculture lobbies firmly in control of Congress, it is not likely that anything will be done to change our present practices, thereby placing all of us at risk for becoming the victims of a super-bug that we will be powerless to stop.

HOW CAN ONE COMPETE...WITH THE RECORD HEAT

Letters to the Editor

OUR SUPPORT IS RESOLUTE

To the Editor:

U.S. Congresswoman Ayanna S. Pressley
7th District of Massachusetts
1108 Longworth HOB
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Congresswoman Pressley:

As you know-we've had the honor of your presence at our meetings-the Boston Ward 5 Democratic Committee advocates for Democrats in local, state, and national elections.

We also support public policies that are important to our community, and we help our neighbors stay informed on the issues that impact their lives, and those of their families. The 50+ members of our committee feel compelled to speak up.

As you have.

We are writing to express our deep appreciation and support for your courageous, thoughtful, and fierce response to the rash of racist and hateful tweets directed at you by the current occupant of the White House. We at the Ward 5 Democratic Committee are proud to have a person like you, who is so committed to building a more equitable, compassionate and just world, representing us in Washington, D.C.

We listened closely and watched carefully during your press conference on July 15, as you called out the president in an eloquent, knowledgeable, and authoritative manner for his erroneous, mean-spirited, callous and xenophobic comments.

This is not the America we know. You made it very clear that hate speech has no place in a functioning Democracy. What is more, you kept your response focused on the issues at hand; you didn't "take the bait." Rather, you took a firm stand with dignity and grace.

Your continued opposition to the Administration's ignorant, bigoted, abusive, and inhumane immigration policies at the border and practices is badly needed.

This president has it all wrong. You have it right.

To quote from the House Resolution condemning his actions:

... "Whereas Benjamin Franklin said at the Constitutional convention, "When foreigners after looking about for some other Country in which they can obtain more happiness, give a preference to ours, it is a proof of attachment which ought to excite our confidence and affection" ...

You lift up the voices of the forgotten so they can be heard.

You stand by them, never allowing them to feel alone, disenfranchised, or dismissed. Likewise, you did so for your constituents in Boston when they needed you. You spoke so clearly on behalf of many among them vulnerable women and girls.

Congresswoman Pressley, your core values shine through. They reflect the real reason why America is truly great; why this is the land we love.

In the current environment, which is harsh beyond words, standing up to relentless attacks has to be difficult.

Please know that our support is resolute, unwavering, and unquestioned. We will never forget what you have done-and continue to do.

In solidarity,

Trespassing

07/19/19 – Officers responded to a Joy Street building at around 5:15 p.m. for a report of two male trespassers there. A male suspect, who appeared intoxicated, attempted to leave the area with an open container of alcohol.

At this time, the suspect became extremely agitated and aggressive towards officers. A check of the suspect revealed he had an outstanding warrant out of Boston District Court.

The suspect began resisting arrest, and additional officers were summoned to help assist in placing him in handcuffs, as well as in the police cruiser.

The suspect was charged with trespassing, being a disorderly person, resisting arrest, assault and on police officers and the outstanding warrant.

Codman Island Committee

Codman Island was created in 1987 by an agreement between the BHCA and the City to beautify and enhance the area. The responsibility for its maintenance belongs to the BHCA but the stewardship of Codman Island is shared between the BHCA, Beacon Hill Garden Club and the Friends of the Public Garden. Each organization contributes annually to a maintenance fund; BHGC and BHCA volunteers clean and maintain the island's plantings. The committee works with the Department of Public Works for improvements with a priority on safety. This year the committee coordinated the installation of wrought-iron fencing to better protect the plantings that have been improved and augmented in the past year. The committee has reviewed the options for an irrigation system and has voted to have the island watered regularly with the same service that waters the Charles Street tree pits. This was determined to be the most cost efficient way to bring regular watering to the trees and plantings on the island. The work this year has helped strengthen and establish the trees and plant materials. Continued projects include

Chicago, Los Angeles, and San Francisco, as well as abroad in London and Toronto, after the Boston opening, Burns said.

With the number of gyms and places to work out in the downtown Boston area, Burns said that what sets TB12 apart from other gyms is a "holistic methodology" that will focus on personalized services from "Body Coaches mirroring Tom's personal approach," Burns said. "We focus on not only performance, but recovery, with forward-thinking concepts in muscle pliability, hydration, nutrition, functional strength and conditioning, as well as cognitive health. TB12 is committed to promoting athletic longevity, and enabling people to do what they love longer."

The Boston location will offer injury assessment and prevention, deep force muscle pliability work, sport performance training, nutrition and recovery, and small group fitness classes, Burns said. "Our cutting-edge fitness services and equipment including metabolic testing, anti-gravity treadmills, and optical systems for gait and jump analysis," he added. The facility will also feature an "interactive retail experience," a smoothie bar offering plant-based protein, VIP client services, corporate wellness events, and a speaker series to spread the TB12 philosophy across the city, Burns said.

"Everything that is done at TB12 is inspired by Tom and how he lives his life, focused on prevention, recovery and performance so he can get back on the field," said Burns. "The facility in the Back Bay gives consumers the inside look at this lifestyle and ultimately makes it accessible. Whether you want a one-on-one session with a TB12 body coach, to participate in a daily workout class, or just stop by our retail store –TB12 is as accessible as you'd like it to be for your individual performance goals."

In late July, people will be able to sign up for one-on-one Body Coach appointments, as well as group fitness classes, Burns said. "We're excited to bring our holistic approach to health and wellness to athletes across all ages and fitness levels, and to give TB12 roots in the City of Boston."

FRESH AND LOCAL

Fennel in a Supporting Role

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

Recently Ed discovered that he actually likes fennel. We were sharing a lobster roll at Select Oyster Bar. He was digging into the salad that's served with it and asked about the thin slices of some vegetable scattered among the lettuce leaves. When told it was fennel, he was surprised.

His father loved to chomp on big hunks of raw fennel and tasting it that way had put him off this licorice flavored bulb. Ed did not realize that he had been enjoying a milder version of fennel's flavor in a supporting role in some of his favorite meals for years.

Bulbs and Fronds

Fennel is a staple in our vegetable bin. Thin slices of fresh fennel bulb are in many of our favorite fish recipes like fish chowder or fish baked in parchment packets. When we serve a fish topped with a breaded stuffing, there is fennel in that mixture. If there's a piece of fennel that needs to be used, it may go in any soup from chicken to minestrone. Chopped fennel fronds often appear in his salads, stir fries, and stews.

To store fennel, when it arrives in the kitchen, we remove any tough outside layers, separate the fronds from the bulb, wrap each part in paper towels, and then store them in a plastic bag in our crisper.

Fennel Seed

Fennel seeds are in our homemade chutneys, ground in the spice blend for our favorite grilled salmon, and we even make a spiced tea that contains fennel seed. Most of the time, we gently toast the seeds in a dry pan to bring out the maximum flavor before adding them, ground or whole, to a recipe.

You'll often find fennel seeds coated with sugar as you leave Indian restaurants. In that culture they are considered an aid in digestion after a big meal.

Do your own research and be very cautious when using concentrated forms of a spice like fennel seed. They have long been used for their therapeutic value. However, just like manufactured drugs, they may interact with other medications or have their own physical side effects. For example, fennel can have an impact on estrogen levels and may interact with any medication that is sensitive to estrogen levels such as birth control pills or tamoxifen.

Fennel Tips and Tidbits

In her book, Nigella Fresh: Delicious Flavors on Your Plate All Year Round, Nigella Lawson suggests substituting thin slices of fennel for the cucumber in a typical greek salad. She finds it helped the salad stay fresh longer while still adding a cool taste and crunch.

Our favorite vegetable reference book is Deborah Madison's "Vegetable Literacy" in which she reminds us that fennel is a member of the carrot family and unless you have an old, tough bulb or want the petals to fall apart, there is no need to remove the core before you slice the bulb.

This salad of thinly sliced asparagus and shaved fennel with lemon juice, capers, and olive oil became a spring favorite for both of us this year.

The online, Real Food Encyclopedia offers these fun facts about fennel:

- "Pliny The Elder, the ancient Roman author famous for his sweeping encyclopedia, 'Natural History,' mentions fennel numerous times as a treatment for stomach ache, to care for the 'stings of serpents,' for uterus health and as a treatment for a bunch of other ancient Roman maladies."

- "In some places in the US, fennel has become an invasive species."

- "Thomas Jefferson once proclaimed Florence fennel his favorite vegetable."

Neighbors gathered at the Four Seasons Hotel on July 17 for the Friends of the Public Garden Summer Party, sponsored by Cambridge Trust. Friends advocate for the care and budget of the Boston Common, Public Garden, and Commonwealth Avenue Mall, and this year are replacing more than 100 rose bushes, and installing smart irrigation systems in the Garden and the Mall.

“These three spaces are the heart of our city,” said Board Chair Leslie Adam, who encourages the public to share their input. “One of the things that is most important is a master plan for the Boston Common. This is a once in a generation opportunity to reimagine the Boston Common, America’s first park. It’s important for our country. The park is in need of investment and love.”

Volunteers needed for American Cancer Society cosmetic sessions

The American Cancer Society is currently seeking volunteers for the "Look Good...Feel Better" sessions held at Tufts Medical Center, 800 Washington St. "Look Good . . . Feel Better" is a free program that teaches cancer patients hands-on cosmetic techniques to help them cope with appearance-related side effects from chemotherapy and/or radiation treatments. Cosmetologists certified and trained by the American Cancer Society conduct the sessions, which are non-medical and do not promote any product line. Volunteers are needed to assist the cosmetologist conducting the session and are responsible for set-up, cleanup, and any other needs of the program. Programs are held from noon to 2 p.m., one Monday every other month. For more information or to volunteer, contact Nanyamka Hales at 781-314-2611 or via e-mail at Nanyamka.Hales@cancer.org, or visit cancer.org.

Be a friend to elderly in need

FriendshipWorks seeks caring people to offer help and support to isolated elders in the Boston area. Volunteers are needed to provide companionship and assist elders with tasks such as reading, organizing, or going for a walk - lend an hour each week and gain a friend and a new perspective. Volunteers also needed to escort elders to and from medical appointments. No car is needed and hours are flexible. For more information or to apply online, visit www.fw4elders.org or call 617-482-1510.

Local residents needed to drive cancer patients to and from treatment

The American Cancer Society is in great need of Road to Recovery volunteers to drive local cancer patients to and from their chemotherapy and/or radiation treatments. An integral part of treating cancer successfully is making sure cancer patients receive their treatments, but many find making transportation arrangements is a challenge. The American Cancer Society provided more than 19,000 rides to cancer patients in New England last year, but needs new volunteer drivers to keep up with the demand for transportation.

Make a difference in the fight against cancer by becoming a volunteer driver for the American Cancer Society's Road to Recovery. Drivers use their own vehicle to drive patients to and from their treatments. The schedule for volunteers is flexible, and treatment appointments take place weekdays, primarily during business hours. If you or someone you know is interested in becoming a volunteer driver for Road to Recovery, contact your American Cancer Society at 800-227-2345 or visit www.cancer.org.

Join the Downtown Boston Rotary Club

The Downtown Boston Rotary Club, the first new Rotary Club in Boston in 100 years, holds meetings at the UMass Club in the Financial District on the first and third Tuesdays of each month from 6 to 7:15 p.m.

For more information, visit www.dbrotary.org or call 617-535-1950.

Volunteer at Spaulding Rehab

Stay active, meet new people and be connected with your community by volunteering at Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital. Staff members will match your skills and interests to a volunteer opportunity. The hospital is currently recruiting volunteers, ages 18 and up, for two- to three-hour-a-week shifts for a minimum of six to 12 months commitment. Visit www.spauldingnetwork.org for more information.

BEACON HILL CIVIC ASSOCIATION GATHERING AT THE CHURCH OF THE ADVENT

Thunderstorms may have moved the Landmarks Orchestra performance for the Evening on the Esplanade from the Hatch Shell to Jordan Hall, but that did not deter members of the Beacon Hill Civic Association from enjoying the pre-concert gathering at the Church of the Advent.

The Evening on the Esplanade is a social mixer for Beacon Hill neighbors to enjoy some fine food, wine, and camaraderie.
